Important Information about procedures for opening a new account or establishing a new customer relationship:

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, all financial institutions are required by law to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each individual or entity that opens an account.

What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, taxpayer or other government identification number and other information, such as date of birth for individuals that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see similar identification requirements applying to financial institutions and business entities showing the existence of the entity.
